

LUCA PAGAN

Luca Pagan lives and works in Chioggia, a small fishing town not far from Venice. A self-taught artist, he's been airbrushing since 1995, and his hobby has become his career. His work has been exhibited all over Europe, including Paris, often in conjunction with traditional oil paintings. He paints on aluminum and other surfaces including walls, helmets, and bikes. He prefers painting fruits and flowers, and will often take as many as 20 to 50 photos of his subject before choosing an image to recreate in exacting detail.
